Workers' Action Centre & Community Advocacy & Legal Clinic (Belleville) Invites you to attend a FREE Training Session on Workplace and Human Rights

Are you a front line worker delivering employment services that help people find jobs or place them in jobs? Are you providing settlement services for newcomers or immigrants? Do you need resources and easy to understand information to help explain what to do if there is a problem or discrimination at work?

If you answered YES to any of the above questions then join our training session. We will provide:

- Training on key areas of employment standards and human rights
- Information to address issues in the labour market, workplace problems or violations
- Learn about the employment standards & human rights complaints process
- Learn how to give workers the tools to understand what to do if they are dealing with a problem or violation at work
- Local resources to make a good referral for your clients

You will receive a free "training guide" with easy to use tools such as fact sheets, a check list for employers if you are placing people in jobs and sample workshop curriculum to incorporate into your work.
